3 When a Typhoon Approaches!

If at Home

- Apply shatter-resistant film or tape to window glass, if there are shutters, close them.
- Prepare for power and water outages: fill the bathtub, have a radio and batteries ready.
- If it becomes dangerous to stay at home, evacuate, leaving a memo stating who went, when they left and where they went.

If Inside

Follow the staff's instructions. If there is no staff to provide evacuation instructions:

- Find something to protect your head such as a hat or bag.
- As you seek shelter, avoid pushing, running, talking, turning back, or crowding.
- Conditions may be bad; if you have a baby, store your baby carriage and hold the baby in your arms as you evacuate.

If Outside

- Keep low as you move, being careful of falling trees and poles and be watchful for flying objects such as signs and branches.
- Enter a nearby building and keep away from windows and doors.
- If you must go outside, protect your head with a helmet or hat and wear thick-soled shoes or boots.
- If there are children with you, hold hands firmly, being sure to not lose sight of them.
- If driving, turn on the hazard lights and find a wide open, high elevation area such as parking lot or road shoulder, to wait until the heavy rains or storm subsides.

Key Words and Phrases

①台風, taifū : Typhoon

To ask if one is coming: “Taifū wa kimasu ka?” (台風は来ますか)

②警報, keihō : Warning, alert

Dangerous strong windstorm warning: Bōfū Keihō (暴風警報)

Flood warning: Kōzui Keihō (洪水警報)

Risk of river flooding: Hanran Keikai Jōhō (氾濫警戒情報)

If at Home

- Turn off the breaker for places in your home where water might get in, then evacuate to a safe location.
- Water outages are a possibility so store water in a large container such as a bathtub.
- If it becomes dangerous to stay home, take pants, thick-soled shoes (long rubber boots may take on water and become heavy) thick outerwear, and a walking stick (as well as your emergency bag if you have prepared one) and evacuate.

If Inside

- Shelter while following staff instructions. If there is no staff to provide such instructions:
- Avoid the entrances and shelter on the upper floors being sure to avoid pushing, running, talking, turning back, or crowding as you do so.
  - Elevators may not work so avoid using a baby carriage if you have one.

If Outside

- Even with low flooding only covering one's ankles (20cm), the currents can be too strong to walk safely, so find shelter quickly.
- A car's engine may stall in flooding of 30cm or more.
- With flooding up to knee-height (50cm) it becomes difficult to walk. Give up on going to an evacuation shelter and seek refuge in a nearby building (your home if it is near), on the upper floor, rooftop, or other high place.
- If driving, turn on the hazard lights and find a wide open, high elevation area such as parking lot or road shoulder, turn off the engine and take shelter.

☆ Flash Flooding—the Sudden Flooding of a River

- Flash flooding can occur very quickly after rainfall as water runs off mountains into nearby rivers, causing them to overflow their banks.
Immediately move away from such rivers.
- Should you be swept away by flooding, use what you can, such as clothing, to protect your head and back, keep your feet in front of you, and try to float on your back with the current.

Key Words and Phrases

- ① 浸水, shinsui: Flooding where water enters a building after rain or other flooding.
To inform someone that water has entered your home: “Yuka-ue Shinsui” (床上浸水)
- ② 冠水, kansui: Flooding where roads, parks, fields are covered in water after rain or other flooding.
To ask if the road is under water: “Dōro wa shizunde-imasu ka?” (道路は沈んでいますか)
- ③ フラッシュフラッド, flash flood: A river's water suddenly increases due to a runoff of rainwater from the mountains.
To inform that someone has been swept away: “Hito ga nagasarete-imasu!” (人が流されています)
To warn people to avoid the river: “Kawa kara hanarete kudasai!” (川から離れてください)

Make Use of the Emergency Messaging Service

Dial 1 7 1To record press 1To listen press 2

Enter the phone number of a person in the disaster area.

Record a messagePlay the message

Use this for communication between yourself, your family and acquaintances; confirm safety, current condition, follow-up plans, etc.

Preparations You Can Make at Home

Tape up your windows

Protect against shards scattering from broken windows or glass doors

Conserve water in the bath

Preparing for water outages
(for washing dishes, flushing the toilet, etc...)

Prepare for evacuation

Prepare an emergency bag and emergency supplies

Furthermore...

- If near mountains, rivers, or in a low-lying area, evacuate early in anticipation of flooding.
- Close shutters or storm doors if you have any.
- In anticipation of power outages, prepare flashlight batteries, matches, lighters, and candles in advance.
- Move your car to the upper level of a parking garage, and cover it.
- Turn off your circuit breakers as the typhoon approaches.

Everyday Precautions You Can Take

- Bring things like bicycles and baby carriages inside.
- Take note of places near your house that can flood with even just a little rain.
- Clean the rain spouts and gutters around your house.
- Participate in disaster prevention practice activities at your workplace, in and around your community, etc.
- Discuss and engage in disaster drills with your family, children, and roommates.

Keywords

- ①養生テープ, yōjō tēpu : Masking tape. Can be used to reinforce windows and other glass.
- ②雨戸, amado, シャッター, shattā : Sliding shutter, closing shutter. Metal protecting door on the outside of windows or glass doors.
- ③ブレーカー, burēkā : Circuit breaker, can be used to turn off all current flow to your house. Turn it off during heavy lightning storms, earthquakes, and typhoons.

7 When an Earthquake Occurs!

If Inside (at Home or Elsewhere)

☆ShakeOut (シェイクアウト)—Safety Measures to Protect Yourself during an Earthquake

Shagamu!

Kakureru!

Osa-eru!

- Move away from windows and shelves, get under a table or desk, close to the ground, and hold onto the table's legs.
- If there is no place to hide, crouch near a nearby post or wall and protect your head.
- If in an elevator, hit the buttons for all floors, and take refuge on the first floor it stops on. If you cannot escape, press the emergency button to call for help, then crouch down and wait.

If Outside

- Move to a wide, open space, keeping away from structures such as buildings, posts, and brick fences.
- Keep hold of your small children.
- If driving, turn on your hazard lights then move to a safe, wide-open space and turn off the engine.

Key Words and Phrases

①地震, jishin : Earthquake

②避難, hi-nan : Evacuation shelter, refuge shelter

To ask where your shelter is: "Hi-nan-jo wa doko desu ka?" (避難所はどこですか?)

To ask if you should evacuate: "Hi-nan shita hou ga ii desu ka?" (避難した方がいいですか?)

How staff may tell you to evacuate: "Hi-nan shiji ni shitagatte kudasai."

(避難指示に従ってください。)

③倒壊, tōkai : Collapse, destruction (of house, building, road, etc.)

④落下物, rakka-butsu : Falling objects (from high places, dangerous if they hit one's head)

If at Home

- Open the door to your home.
- Put on thick-soled shoes, a hat or helmet, gloves or mittens.
- Turn off the gas, shut off your circuit breakers.
- Get your emergency bag.
- If it becomes dangerous to stay at home, leave a memo stating who went, when they left and where they went, then take shelter from aftershocks in a wide, open space, such as a park or parking lot.

If Inside

Shelter, following staff instructions. If there is no staff to provide such instructions:

- Find something to protect your head such as a hat or bag.
- As you seek shelter, avoid pushing, running, talking, turning back, or crowding.
- Conditions may be bad; store your baby carriage, hold the baby in your arms to evacuate.

If Outside

Since there is a strong possibility that roads will be dangerous due to falling objects, collapsing buildings or power lines, and landslides:

- take shelter from aftershocks in a wide, open space such as a park or parking lot.
- when evacuating from your car, turn off the engine before seeking shelter.
- if leaving your car on the road, leave the keys inside in case rescue workers need to move it.

Once the Aftershocks Subside

- Confirm the status of the aftershocks using a radio or the Internet.
- Confirm that your house is safe and, if you can get there, consider taking refuge at home.
- If your house has sustained damage, collect your emergency bag and supplies if you can, then go to your designated evacuation shelter.

Key Words and Phrases

①余震, yoshin : Aftershock

②震度, shindo : Seismic intensity scale used in Japan to measure earthquake strength.

☆Seismic intensity and amount of shaking:

In the Unlikely Event That You Are Buried Alive

- Don't yell for help. Instead, conserve your body's energy.
- Make noises only when you can hear nearby voices, footsteps, or sounds of work.
- Make unnatural sounds such as rhythmically striking a stone against a wall 3 times or blowing a whistle if you have one.
- To avoid further collapse, try not to disturb any large pieces of rubble or debris.

If You Find Someone Buried Alive

- Tell the person that you've noticed them, then immediately notify rescue workers or emergency teams.
- To prevent further collapse, avoid moving any large pieces of rubble or debris.
- If it is possible to give things to the trapped person, offer water, and items with salt and sugar content.

Three Rules for the First-stages of Fighting a Fire

Be Quick to Sound the Alarm and Let Others Know

- Inform others by activating the fire alarm, shouting "kaji-da!" or striking a pot, etc.
- Call 119 even if the fire is small.

Be Quick to Fight the Fire

- Know how to use a fire extinguisher, and use it on the flame.
- Strike the fire with a cushion or wet cloth if you have no extinguisher.

Be Quick to Escape

- If unable to put the fire out after 3 minutes, leave it and go.
- If the fire spreads to the ceiling, give up on extinguishing it and escape.
- Leave your personal belongings; once you've escaped, don't return.

Key Words and Phrases

- ①埋もれています, umorete-imasu : Buried alive, trapped (collapsed building, rubble, etc.)
To inform people that you are trapped: "Umorete-imasu!" (埋もれています!)
To inform that someone else is trapped: "Hito ga umorete-imasu!" (人が埋もれています!)
- ②火事, kaji : A fire, such as when a building is burning.
To inform people that there is a fire: "Kaji desu!" (火事です!)
- ③消火器, shōkaki : Fire extinguisher
To ask where the fire extinguisher is: "Shōkaki wa doko desu ka?" (消火器はどこですか?)

How to Use a Fire Extinguisher

Remove the yellow safety pin

Point the hose toward the flame

Grip the lever tightly

Points to Evacuating from the Scene of a Fire

- If the fire spreads to the ceiling, evacuate quickly.
  - Prioritize evacuating the elderly, children, and those who are pregnant or ill. Help if you can.
  - Don't worry about your clothes or belongings, evacuate quickly, and do not return.
  - To avoid exposure to toxic fumes, stay as low as possible and evacuate calmly.
  - If anyone is late or unable to evacuate, inform the fire department right away.
- ※To avoid getting lost or panicked in an evacuation, prepare all necessary items and conduct safety drills well beforehand, to be prepared to evacuate at any time.

Push strongly against the glass.

Head for the emergency exit.

Cover your nose and mouth with a moist handkerchief.

Key Words and Phrases

- ①非常ボタン, hijō botan : Emergency button, to notify people of fire or other emergency
To ask where the button is: “Hijō botan wa doko desu ka?” (非常ボタンはどこですか)
To ask someone to press it: “Hijō botan wo oshite kudasai” (非常ボタンを押してください)
- ②非常口, hijō-guchi : Emergency exit
To ask where the emergency exit is: “Hijō-guchi wa doko desu ka?” (非常口はどこですか)
- ③119 番通報, hyaku-jū-kyū ban tsūhō : Emergency number 119, to request ambulance services or fire services
To request someone call: “Hyaku-jū-kyū ban tsūhō shite kudasai” (119 番通報してください)

Tsunami

There is no worry of tsunamis hitting Okazaki but, should you be near the ocean during one:

- There is a high possibility of a tsunami occurring after a strong earthquake that lasts 20 seconds or more.
- If the tide is low, hurry and seek shelter on higher ground.
- If inside a building or shelter, move away from windows and doors.
- Wait until it is safe to leave, confirming by radio or internet.

Tsunami Evacuation
Building
tsunami hinan biru
津波避難ビル

Tsunami Evacuation
Location
tsunami hinan basho
津波避難場所

Landslides

- Evacuate if a landslide warning is issued for your area.
- If you notice any of the following warning signs, evacuate immediately:
  - Cliff failure: Small rocks start tumbling. Cracks appear. Water gushes from the slope.
  - Mudslide: The water level of a river drops, it gets muddy, driftwood begins to appear.
  - Land slip: Fissures appear in the ground. Sudden change in water quantity of ponds, etc.

☆Soil Liquefaction (液状化現象・液状化)

There is a danger of power lines and buildings collapsing in areas susceptible to "liquefaction" (where ground shaking can cause underground water, mud, sand, etc. to gush out and act like a liquid). Please look into the risk of liquefaction of your area.

☆Road Conditions

After a powerful earthquake, there is the possibility of road collapse, road blockages due to debris, and the scattering of dangerous items.

If you need to go out, do not use cars, bicycles, baby carriages and, instead, go carefully on foot.

Key Words and Phrases

①津波 “tsunami”: Potentially large waves that may follow an earthquake.

To ask if a tsunami is coming: “Tsunami wa kite-imasu ka?” (津波は来ていますか)

To ask where to take refuge: “Tsunami hinan basho wa doko desu ka?” (津波避難場所はどこですか)

②道路の状態 “dōro no jōtai”: Road conditions (since cracks, fallen trees, other obstacles may make them impassible)

To ask if the roads are usable: “Dōro wa tōremasu ka?” (道路は通れますか)

Preparations You Can Make at Home

Tension Brace

tsuppari bō
突っ張り棒

Helps guard against tall furniture falling over.

Safety latch

sutoppaa
ストッパー

Helps prevent cabinets and cupboards from spilling and shattering their contents.

Shatter-resistant film

hisan bōshi firumu
飛散防止フィルム

Helps prevent windows or doors from scattering glass shards.

Topple prevention

rakka bōshi
落下防止

Reduce risk of injury by removing items from above tall furniture.

Furthermore...

- Keep a helmet, jacket, shoes, emergency bag, etc. near a table or desk that you can hide under in an earthquake.
- Don't block or clutter your escape route.
- Arrange furniture and items such that they don't pose a danger if there's an earthquake while you are sleeping.

Everyday Precautions You Can Take

- Also keep items such as masks, wet tissues, household medicine, and bandages in your everyday bag, not only in your emergency bag.
- Keep some cash on hand as credit cards and electronic payment may be unusable.
- If you have a car, keep an emergency bag, water, food, clothes, and first-aid kit inside.
- Participate in disaster prevention practice activities at your workplace, in your community, etc.
- Discuss and engage in disaster drills with your family, children, and roommates.

Keywords

①耐震 “taishin” : A building's durability against earthquakes.

To inquire: “Koko no taishin-sei wo oshiete kudasai” (この耐震性を教えてください)

②地震対策 “jishin taisaku” : Earthquake preparedness.

③地震対策グッズ “jishin taisaku gudzu” : Earthquake preparedness goods

④防災訓練 “bōsai kunren” : Safety drills such as evacuation drills, practice with a fire extinguisher, etc.

Food for emergencies

Food that is already in the refrigerator

Ready-to-eat food pouches of foods your family eats regularly

Emergency-use food that can be kept for years

Rolling stock

Add to your stockpile

- ① Buy a lot of ready-to-eat pouches
- ② Regularly eat them before they expire
- ③ Replace the ones you've eaten

This way, your supplies can also contain items with shorter expiration dates.

Water stockpile

At least 3L/person

Number of family members

About 1 weeks' worth

At least 3 days

Besides drinking water, prepare some water for cooking and washing in a metal drum, plastic container, or, if necessary, a bathtub.

Water for daily use that is kept unchlorinated can develop impurities such as mold, lichen, and bacteria. Keep the water without dechlorinating.

Portable Toilets / Simple Toilets

Plus, items such as these according to your household needs:

Camping Equipment and Disasters

Since camping supplies, such as portable toilets, portable gas stoves, sleeping bags, and tents are made for places where there is no electricity, plumbing, or gas, they are also useful during emergencies. It can be helpful to buy some camping equipment as part of one's disaster preparation.

Preparing to Shelter with Pets

While, in principle, pets can be taken to evacuation shelters, because they will be kept, caged, in a separate area from people, be sure to prepare a litter box, food, a cage, a nametag and photo of your pet.

Wounds and Injuries

Have the injured person sit or lay down and rest.

- Designate someone to ①call 119, and another to ②look for medical personnel nearby.
- If the wound is serious, try to stop the bleeding.
  - ①Apply firm pressure to the wound with gauze, a handkerchief, etc.
  - ②If the bleeding continues despite pressure being applied, tie up or apply pressure to an area between the wound and the heart.
  - ③For deep wounds such as a puncture, do not remove the puncturing object but apply pressure around it.
    - If it comes out, apply gauze to the wound, and apply pressure to stop the bleeding.
- In case of a bruise or a contusion, have the person lie down.
  - ①If it was the head, don't move the head. ②If it was the body, cool down the area.

Bone Fractures

There are complete fractures, where the bone is completely broken, and incomplete fractures, where there are only small cracks. If you think there may be a fracture, do the following steps:

Closed Fracture (A fracture within the body, that does not break the skin)

- ①Rest the entire body including the affected area.
- ②Secure the affected area (carefully remove any gloves or socks first)
  - If the injured area is bent, do not straighten it; leave it as is.

Open Fracture (Serious fracture where the bone pierces the skin and there is heavy bleeding)

- ①The procedure is the same as with a closed fracture but bleeding must be controlled.
- ②Do not try to reinsert the protruding bone fragment(s).

Early Detection of Stroke/Cerebral Hemorrhage 「ACT FAST」

Face

Can't form facial expressions?
Half of the face droops?

Arms

When raising arms horizontally, one of them lowers.

Speech

Slurred speaking?
Incapable of speaking?

Time

If you see these symptoms:
Call 119.

Guidelines for Handling Unconsciousness

While tapping the person strongly on the shoulder, ask in a loud voice “Are you ok? Daijōbu desu ka?” to check if the person is conscious. If unconscious, lay the person down in a safe location, facing upward. If the person is unconscious or not breathing, administer the following first-aid procedures.

AED and 119

Designate one person to ① call 119, and another person to ② look for an AED (Automated External Defibrillator).

Airway Stabilization, Artificial Respiration

- ① Lower head, raise chin, open mouth
- ② Breathe into the person's mouth
- ③ Allow that breath out, repeat

Heart Massage

- ① Open right hand. Clasp it from behind with left.
- ② Apply pressure to lower half of the sternum.
- ③ Rate: 100-120 times a minute. Depth: 5cm.

An Ambulance Takes about 10 Minutes

- ① Repeat the artificial respiration and chest compressions until an ambulance arrives.
- ② If an AED is available, use it while performing the above.

Key Words and Phrases

- ① 意識不明, “ishiki fumei”: Unconscious. Does not move or respond when shaken or called.

Evacuation Shelter Rules

- All evacuees are asked to wait their turn, do their part, and work together.
- The amount of usable water, food, etc. is limited. If you can bring any, do so and conserve.
- Be mindful of the injured, expectant women, the elderly, and others requiring special care.
- Respect one another's privacy (location, possessions, information).
- Separate your trash, keep the garbage collection areas clean.
- Keep shared spaces such as washrooms clean.
- Inform the shelter staff before moving (home, family/friend's place, another shelter, etc.)

Mental Care

- Maintain a daily routine: sleep early/wake early, get some morning sun, eat at regular times.
- Keep informed: online, by radio, or by occasionally talking to the management staff.
- Try using simple games/activities to communicate with those around you - Have some of your favourite snacks or drinks to help yourself relax.
- Be careful not to bother others when engaging in forms of self-expression such as dancing, singing, drawing, and photography.

Health and Hygiene

- For hygienic purposes and to protect against the spread of diseases, wash your hands thoroughly and wear a mask.
- Oral hygiene is important. Brush your teeth thoroughly.
- The toilets, washrooms, cooking areas should be frequently cleaned.
Take great care in disposing of all forms of waste.
- Take your temperature and check your physical condition every day.
- Exercise and stretch every day.

Life in an evacuation shelter is difficult. They're small spaces with many people, no baths, and limited supplies of necessities. People should stay at home or with family and friends if it is safe to do so. If the shelter is your only option, be sure to follow the rules and mind your manners.
